LET'S BEGIN

Explore Alibaug

- Due to its beautiful surroundings, Alibaug is a very appealing location for tourists.
- It is a seaside town, surrounded by nature.
- It is a tropical island with palm beaches that is at the height of its splendour.
- It is a fan-favourite getaway for the residents of Mumbai and Pune!
- A ferry is scheduled every 15 minuye from the Gateway of India to Alibaug port.
- Alibaug has a reputation for having clear, unpolluted waters, silvery beaches, and clean air.

Kolaba Fort

the 300-year-old Kolaba fort is encircled on all sides by the Arabian Sea. When Shivaji Maharaj was in power, it served as Maharashtra's principal naval station. The fort has two main entrances with an average height of 25 feet, one near the sea and the other close to Alibaug. If you visit this fort during the monsoon season, you will have to wade through the water at low tide. The historical history and significance excite visitors, who go there because Alibaug beach offers beautiful, serene water landscape.

Alibaug Beach

The most popular attractions to visit in Alibaug are the beach and the fort, both of which are known for their scenic beauty and long histories. It's a beautiful beach where you can unwind and watch the Arabian Sea sunset. The beach is distinctive in that the finer white sand is beneath the coarser black counterpart, and the surrounding rocks add to the peculiar appearance of the area. For couples who wish to go on a beach date, it is a highly romantic location.

Murud Beach

This beach, one of the most visited locations in Alibaug, is frequently crowded and busy with activities. Dapoli's Murud Beach is well known for both its breathtaking views of the surroundings and its thrilling water sports. If you're lucky, you could even have the opportunity to interact with some friendly dolphins. Here, you may participate in parasailing, banana boat rides, and other thrilling water sports. Additionally, horseback riding is available. The magnificence of this beach is enhanced by the Murud Janjira fort in the distance.

Kanakeshwar Forest

One of the best places to visit in Alibaug is Kanakeshwar forest, where you may explore more wildlife and adventure. It is a thick forest with a wide variety of plants and animals. Additionally, the location on the Konkan coast close to Alibaug means that the area always has a pleasant climate. Additionally, you can set up camp there or hike along the forest trails. It's perfect for adventurers who want to stroll through forests.
