

Andaman & Nicobar

The stunning archipelago of Andaman and Nicobar Islands, one of India's union territories, is situated in the Bay of Bengal. Exotic beaches offer a fantastic beach vacation away from the rush of city life since they are blessed with coral reefs and incredible marine life, which transform the environment into something stunningly beautiful. The islands in this group are a paradise for outdoor enthusiasts and thrill-seekers alike.

LET'S BEGIN

Explore The Islands

- Port Blair is the capital of the Union Territory of Andaman and Nicobar Islands in India.
- It is made up of more than 830 islands, out of which, only 36 are permanently inhabited.
- The best time to visit is in the months of October to May, when the weather is nice and clear.
- Due to its beautiful beaches, Andaman and Nicobar islands are one of the most popular travel destinations for Indian tourists.
- Havlock island is famous for its white sandy beaches.
- For lovers of water sports, this is the perfect destination.
- Port Blair has a wide range of markets that draw both domestic and international tourists.

Radhanagar Beach

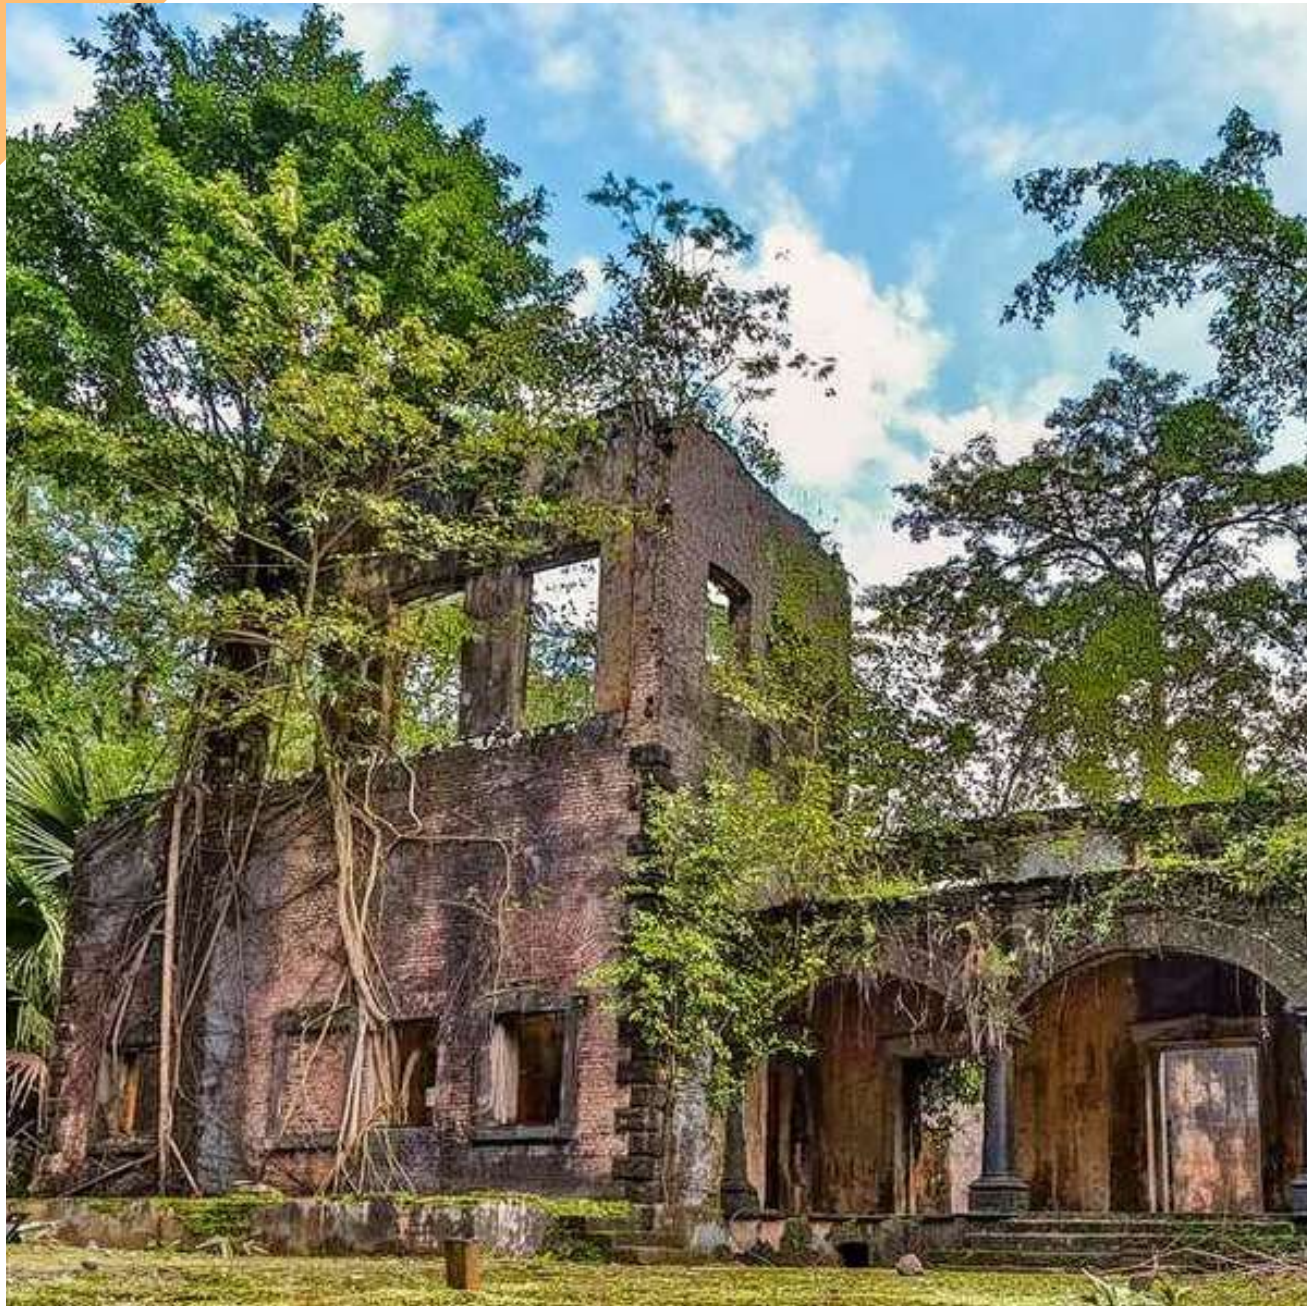

Radhanagar Beach at Havelock Island, which was named "Asia's Best Beach" by the TIMES magazine in 2004, lives up to the accolade with its azure waves and fine, white sands. It is one of the main draws of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands due to its expansive shoreline of infinite white grains that span over 2 kilometers. On the outskirts of the shore, there are food stalls and sellers who provide drinks and fresh, delectable seafood to keep tourists refreshed.

Ross Island

Ross Island (formerly known as Netaji Subhash Bose Island), which was originally the British government's administrative center but is now just a deserted island, is located just 2 kms East of Port Blair. Today, everything is gone but for a few structures that once held some of these landmarks. Some historic structures, including the neighborhood shops and bakery, have been successfully rebuilt by the Indian Navy to give visitors a sense of the past. These shops also provide souvenirs for sale.

North Bay Island

North Bay is a small, isolated island close to Port Blair that is frequently visited by travelers taking a day trip to. It is among the top locations in the Andaman Islands for water sports. With a narrow beach that provides an excellent underwater perspective, the island is surrounded by water that is perfectly transparent and cyan in color. There are wooden seats and bungalows scattered along the white-sand beach, which is covered by tall tropical trees.

Neil Island

Neil Island is located in the Ritchie's Archipelago in the Bay of Bengal which is a part of the South Andaman Administrative District. It is separated from Ross Island and Havelock Island by a portion of the vast ocean. Neil Island is a popular day trip for visitors to Havelock Island. The temperature is a few degrees higher in the areas. However, Neil Island is the main provider of veggies to the majority of the Andaman Islands' districts.
